

"The face of the river, in time, became a wonderful book... And it was not a book to be read once and thrown aside, for it had a new story to tell everyday."

Mark Twain, Life on the Mississippi

A River of Stories

Teacher Workshop

Wednesday, June 23, and Thursday, 24, 2010

8:30 a.m.- 4:00 p.m.

at Jefferson National Expansion Memorial

The Mississippi River is essential to the people who live along its banks as well as the nation as a whole. And, just as Mark Twain said it has many different stories to tell. Join us as we explore the Mississippi River through the eyes of those who maintain it, depend on it, and are inspired by it. Guest presenters include:

- Missouri Department of Conservation
- Army Corps of Engineers
- American Corn Growers Association
- RiverWorks Discovery
- Musical Performance by Sandy Weltman and Charlie Pfeffer

The two-day workshop is FREE. You may purchase lunch from a pre-selected menu or bring your lunch.

Professional development credit is available. Inquire for more information.

Space is limited. To make a reservation please call Jefferson National Expansion Memorial Education Department at 314-655-1635

This workshop is supported in part by Jefferson National Parks Association
